Mustafa makes it

The first step in the process of making a film is to choose a subject. In this case, the subject is the life of Mustafa Kemal Atatürk, the founder of the Republic of Turkey. The film is a biographical work that covers his life from birth to death. It is a very important work for the Turkish people, as it tells the story of their leader and the man who shaped their country.

Mustafa Kemal Atatürk was born on May 18, 1881, in Salonica, which is now part of Greece. He was a young man when he joined the Ottoman Army and fought in the Balkans and the Caucasus. He was a brilliant strategist and a great leader. He led the Turkish people to independence and founded the Republic of Turkey in 1923.

Mustafa Kemal Atatürk was a man of many talents. He was a soldier, a statesman, a writer, and a reformer. He was a man who believed in the power of education and the importance of a strong, modern state. He was a man who made a difference in the world.

Mustafa Kemal Atatürk was a man who was loved by his people. He was a man who was respected by his enemies. He was a man who was remembered by his people for his great achievements. He was a man who made a difference in the world.

Mustafa Kemal Atatürk was a man who was a great leader. He was a man who was a great statesman. He was a man who was a great reformer. He was a man who was a great man.

Mustafa Kemal Atatürk was a man who was a great man. He was a man who was a great leader. He was a man who was a great statesman. He was a man who was a great reformer.

Although no Turks have yet been elected to the national parliament, several Turks have been elected to the Victorian state parliament. From 1976 to 1999 Teyfan Ewin was the ALP member for South Launceston in the Legislative Council. From 2002 his brother, John David Ewin, was the member for Geelong in the Legislative Council before moving to the seat of Lara in the Legislative Assembly. Also first elected in 2002, as the member for South Eastern Metropolitan in the Legislative Council, was Adam Kabilan. The strongest ties have been with the Australian Labor Party (ALP) for which the socio-economic situation of the early arrivals made them a natural constituency. Most Turks joining its general branches of the ALP, they also followed the example of other ethnic groups and established their own Turkish branches in the early 1980s. (Australian Turkish Education and Social Affairs Centre, 2011) In 2011 to 2012 two Turkish branches of the ALP were operating. The Geelong branch is located in the Geelong hillfield area, which is part of the South-Western region, while the second is the Moorabool branch. Apart from these ethnic organizations, a number of other Turks have been active in state and local politics as members of various parties.
